

How to Use This Doc

On behalf of the entire Paperless Parts team, we're so excited to welcome you as a customer.

Not only is your investment in Paperless Parts going to revolutionize your quoting process, being a customer makes you more attractive to buyers who care about speed, consistency, and security.

In that vein, we have included a number of materials in this folder to help you market your investment and showcase your commitment to providing a differentiated experience for your customers. These are just guides to get you started. If at any point, you'd like assistance with developing materials more custom to your shop, don't hesitate to reach out. Or if you'd like to be profiled on our blog, In the Shop, we'd love to interview you!

Regards,

Sarah McAuley

Chief Marketing Officer, Paperless Parts

sarah.mcauley@paperlessparts.com

Ready to Share Your Thoughts?

Explore this folder and find the template that works best for you. Below are a few examples of how other shops have shared their Paperless Parts' experience.

